

Johns Hopkins University
School of Nursing

Networking Contacts

Networking is an essential part of a successful career. Classmates, faculty, supervisors, academic advisors, co-workers and others will help you identify potential opportunities, improve your nursing skills, and encourage you develop both personally and professionally.

Remember, networking is successful if you are a resource as well. Be sure to share your knowledge, skills and experience with others as well.

Use this section to keep track of the people in your network. (Make copies of the following pages as your network grows.)

Johns Hopkins University
School of Nursing

Networking Contacts

Name _____ Title _____

Employer _____ Department _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip code _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Where you met _____

Key points _____

Follow-up _____

Will this person serve as a reference for you? _____

Name _____ Title _____

Employer _____ Department _____

Address _____

City _____ State _____ Zip code _____

Phone _____ Email _____

Where you met _____

Key points _____

Follow-up _____

Will this person serve as a reference for you? _____